Our friend of The Boston Courier has come to the conclusion that Lord Chatham was the author of "The Letters of Junius," and has written a long article to sustain this opinion. But does n't The Courier go rather too far when it says that there "is nothing pos since too law when it says that there "is nothing posi-ively of any consequence but the fact of the resemblance of handwriting, tending to fix the authorship upon unius!" We should say that there was something in he resemblance of the Junius style to that of Francis, and a good deal in the fact that if any man in England hillp; whereas, we do not see the least resemblance in tyle between Chatham and "Junius," and not much rebaracter. A less secretive man at any rate than Pitt ever lived.

Messrs. Appleton & Co., in reply to an assertion that they reprint Mr. Darwin's "Descent of Man" without remuneration to the author, announce that they pay regular copyright, the same as that usually paid to American authors, to Messrs. Huxley, Tyndail Darwin, Spencer, Lubbock, Lecky, Galton, and other English scientific writers, whose works they reprint. The same firm will shortly issue a "New Handbook of Western Travel," which will contain a full description of all through-routes from the Eastern cities to the West Western Travel," which will contain a full description of all through-routes from the Eastern cities to the West and Far West, the great lake and river routes, and all local routes between New-York State and the Pacific; Dr. Andrew Combe's "Management of Infancy, Physiological and Moral," revised and edited by Sir James Clark, Physician-in-Ordinary to Queen Victoria; "Reminiscences of Fifty Years," by Mark Boyd, a perfect "olla podrida" of ancedotes and reminiscence, some of which relate to great generals like the Duke of Wellington and Lord Clyde; some to artists and men of letters, and these include the names of Campbell, Rogers, Thackeray, and David Roberts; some to statesmen, and among others to Pitt, who was a friend of Mr. Boyd's father, to Lords Palmerston, Brougham, and Derby; father, to Lords Palmerston, Brougham, and Sir John Some to discoverers, like Sir John Franklin and Sir John Some to discoverers, like Sir John Franklin and Sir John Some to Miscoverers, like Sir John Franklin and Sir John Some to Miscoverers, like Sir John Franklin and Sir John Some to Miscoverers, like Sir John Franklin and Sir John Some to Miscoverers, like Sir John Franklin and Sir John Some to Miscoverers, like Sir John Franklin and Sir John Some to Miscoverers, like Sir John Franklin and Sir John Some to Miscoverers, like Sir John Franklin and Science, Philosophy, and Morals;" and two new books, by Prof. Tyndall. One is the two courses of lectures delivered by him before the Royal Institution, on "Light and Electricity;" the other, "Hours of Exercise in the Alps," being a collection of his entertaining papers on his Alpine researches and adventures. They will immediately reprint "Light and Science for Leisure Hours: a Scries of Pamiliar Essays on Scientific Subjects, Natural Phenomena," &c., by R. A. Proctor. The Rural Southerner says of "What I Know ant Farming:" "It is not eccentricity, but the most profound good sense that is contained in the dedication of this book, which reads: 'To the man who will make the first plow propelled by steam or other mechanica power, whereby not less than ten acres per day shall be theroughly pulverized to a depth of two feet, at a cost of not more than two dollars an acre, this work is adminized deleated by the Author. An impression generally prevails that Mr. Greever does not know anything about farming, but that having once taken up that bothly, he will continue to ride it so long as opposition continues, and the press chooses to notice his vagaries on the subject. Whether he does or does not know anything about the subject is immaterial, so long as we find his book filled with food for thought, and suggestions that are calculated to make farmers think to their great advantage if they will adopt the philosopher's ideas. There is a wonderful amount of practicability in his atterances also, which we find are better calculated to improve the agricultural condition of the country, than any one can imagine. Hence this book will do an immense deal of good in causing these who read it to adopt the suggestions to practical and profitughly pulverized to a depth of two fect, at a cost of

The book is a remarkable one and the good sense, excellent advice and valuable bints that it absorate in make it really valuable to any one is any sort of business, occupation, or profession.

It ought to sell millions of copies. Every family ought to have a copy, and they ought to read and re-read it.

It ought to be in the hands of every man, woman, and child in the world—if they know how to read—and if they do n't it ought to be read to there.

The week closes upon a dull and uninteresting stock market, the speculation ruling tame and spirit-. The Jerome Park races presented superior attractions to Wall-st., and there has been quite a general hegira of operators and speculators from the street, and dealings ceased at an early hour. The general features of the street were much the same as yesterday, the special features of the market being also the same, though there was no further decline noticed either in Union Pacific or the North-Westerns. Concerning the decline in the last-named, there has been some talk in the street that the divilend recently declared was done on borrowed money or that obtained by the sale of bonds of "The Morrisons," etc. 12mo. Rock Island was noticeably strong and in demand at higher figures. After these stocks the larger dealings were in New-York Central, Lake Shore, Ohios, Wabash, and the St. Joseph shares, the last-named being quite freely pressed for sale. Of the less prominent list we note sales of Illinois Central at 136; Morris and Essex, 23; St. Louis and Iron Mountain, 61; Panama, 52; C. C. and I. C., 21], and Boston, Hartford and Eric (1.000 shares), at 22 23. In the iscellanceus shares Pacific Mail was rather heavy, while Western Union Telegraph advanced nearly one per cent. The coal stocks were lively, particularly Consolidation, which sold down about 2 per cent; but subsequently returned to 512. The other stocks were lower, expresses being neglected. The gold market has been very dull and steady, the dealings being extremely restricted, and at 112] @1121. the preponderance of sales being at 1124. Whether the last gold pool has come to grief or not we are not assured, but in any event, if still in existence, there was no disposition to take advantage of the situation, and the lend-ing rates for coin ranged from flat to 1 and 2 per cent for carrying. THE COTTON TRADE,

By special telegrams, received by us to-night By special telegrams, received by us to-night from the Southern ports, we are in possession of the returns showing the receipts, exports, &c., of cotton for the week ending this evening, June 16. From the figures thus obtained it appears that the total receipts for the seven days have reached 24,046 baies, against 250,436 baies last week, 36,462 bales the previous week, and 40,178 bales three weeks since, making the total receipts since the 1st of September, 1870, 3,845,176 baies, against 2,800,478 baies for the same period of 1869-70, showing an increase since Sept. 1 this year of 1,044,698 bales. The details of the receipts for this week (as per telegraph) and the corresponding week of 1870 are as follows:
